HW VENTILATION: OUR MISSION

HW Ventilation is an experienced, trustworthy manufacturer of axial fans and ventilators for industrial applications.

We aim at offering our customers high quality, efficient, and rightly priced products, made with the best materials provided by rigorously selected suppliers.

Our products, and their components, are 100% made in Italy.

We view ourselves as partners who help our customers find the best customized solution for any need in air movement and in a timely manner.

We aim at strengthening our position as global leaders, consolidating our position in our traditional markets, and expanding internationally through our growing network of agents and distributors.
